ou may have noticed, little friends, That cats don't wash their faces Before they eat as children do, In all good Christian places.

Well, years ago, a famous cat,
The pangs of hunger feeling,
Had chanced to catch a fine young mouse, Who said, as he ceased squealing:

All genteel folks their faces wash Before they think of eating!"
And, wishing to be thought well-bred,
Puss heeded his entreating.

But when she raised her paw to wash, Chance for escape affording, The sly young mouse said his good-bye,

Without respect to wording. A feline council met that day, And passed in solemn meeting, law forbidding any cat
